

Breast Cancer Survivorship Care: From Paper to Practice

Date/Time: 4/8/2025 6:30:00 PM

Activity ID: 20990

Location: Virtual Meeting

Topic Evidence has shown that despite the significant improvement in breast cancer screening and treatment modalities, women living with breast cancer continue to struggle with significant physical and psychosocial burdens from their cancer diagnosis and its treatments.

Objectives:

After this activity, the participant will be able to:

- 1 Review established literature regarding the benefits of survivorship care for patients with breast cancer.
- 1 Explain similarities and differences between traditional outcome measurements and the needs of breast cancer survivors.
- 2 Describe proposed models of survivorship that address what matters most to our patients.
